Enzymes are generally globular proteins, acting alone or in larger complexes. The sequence of the amino acids specifies the structure which in turn determines the catalytic activity of the enzyme. Although structure determines function, a novel enzymatic activity cannot yet be predicted from structure alone. Enzyme structures unfold when heated or exposed to chemical denaturants and this ...

Life is a characteristic that distinguishes physical entities that have biological processes, such as signaling and self-sustaining processes, from those that do not, either because such functions have ceased (they have died), or because they never had such functions and are classified as inanimate. Various forms of life exist, such as plants, animals, fungi, protists, archaea, and bacteria.

A Hopfield network (HN) is a network where every neuron is connected to every other neuron; it is a completely entangled plate of spaghetti as even all the nodes function as everything. Each node is input before training, then hidden during training and output afterwards. The networks are trained by setting the value of the neurons to the desired pattern after which the weights can be computed.

Biofilms can also be found inside the host cells forming intracellular structures. The first report of intracellular bacterial communities (IBC) with biofilm-like properties was described in uropathogenic E. coli (UPEC) [24, 46]. It has been observed that a high number of IBC are associated with the development of chronic cystitis [47, 48]. The presence of IBC has also been described in children ...

If we consider forward and reverse supply chains simultaneously, the result network will construct a closed-loop supply chain. Fig. 1 illustrates a generic supply chain for both forward and reverse logistics. In this figure, the classical (forward), and reverse supply chains are presented by solid lines and dashes, respectively.
