New classical macroeconomics, sometimes simply called new classical economics, is a school of thought in macroeconomics that builds its analysis entirely on a neoclassical framework. Specifically, it emphasizes the importance of rigorous foundations based on microeconomics, especially rational expectations. New classical macroeconomics strives to provide neoclassical microeconomic foundations ...

In economics, the wage or labor share is the part of national income, or the income of a particular economic sector, allocated to wages (). It is related to the capital or profit share, the part of income going to capital, which is also known as the K/Y ratio. The labor share is a key indicator for the distribution of income. The wage share is countercyclical; that is, it tends to fall ...
