The Photograph As Contemporary Art - Charlotte Cotton. An example is Luc Delahaye (p184). He takes subjects from photojournalism and presents them as art. In his image "Kabul Road" a haunting subject is captured, but contains beautiful colour tones, a considered composition and presented a large panoramic format.

The Photograph As Contemporary Art - Charlotte Cotton

This is quite a general introduction to contemporary photograph art, covering a large range of practices in a very open-minded attitude. There is a lack of criticism, for I believe the author's only aim is to introduce the breadth of contemporary photography rather than going deeply into any particular topic.

The Photograph as Contemporary Art by Charlotte Cotton

Because the camera is literally an archiving machine, every photograph, every film is a priori an archival object. This is the fundamental reason why photography and film are often archival records, documents and pictorial testimonies of the existence of a recorded fact, an excess of the seen.
